Rotary Bands and BBQ Competition

Proceeds going to Hancock County Veterans Memorial & Rotary Scholarship funds

Fun "all day" event with something for every member of the family

You've seen them on Food Network and the Travel Channel – those huge festivals that draw in thousands of people from hundreds of miles away for but for one thing only: great barbeque! Now Greenfield has one of its own! The Rotary Bands and BBQ-2009!

This event is a KCBS licensed Barbeque competition. THE KANSAS CITY BARBEQUE SOCIETY (KCBS) is an organization dedicated to promoting and enjoying barbeque. It is the world's largest organization of barbeque and grilling enthusiasts with over 10,000 members worldwide. We are honored they have chosen to license this event. There will be BBQ artists in fierce competition for prize money and bragging rights for the best BBQ. But that is not all. This event will include:

- ° Variety of local bands
- ° Beer Garden
- ° Family fun Corn Maze
- ° Multitude of Food Vendors (including BBQ'n Fools)
- ° No Admission
- ° Free parking

What: Rotary Bands and BBQ Competition – 2009
Where: Lark Ranch located at Meridian & New Road, Greenfield, Indiana (www.larkranch.com)
When: Saturday, September 19th, opens at 10 AM until 7 PM

There are many ways to get involved on the ground-level of this iconic event. First and foremost is your participation as a sponsor/vendor, as well as volunteer or contributor. Make no mistake, this is fun! And all proceeds go directly to the Hancock County Veterans Memorial park and local Rotary Scholarship funds. These are worthy causes to commemorate our past and present veterans, and also to assist our local youth to a higher education.

Rotary Bands and BBQ–2009 is heavily advertised on local media and conventional print media, as well multiple exposures with service clubs and businesses. This is a great opportunity to directly market and cross market your business with an outstanding demographic!

The Rotary Club of Greenfield - Thanks you for your support!
